

NORTH CAROLINA SUPPLEMENTAL RETIREMENT PLANS PROXY VOTING POLICY
Revised August 21, 2025

I. Purpose

The North Carolina Supplemental Retirement Board of Trustees (the “Board”) and the North Carolina Department of State Treasurer (the “Department”) administer, and are charged with a fiduciary duty to manage all aspects of, the Supplemental Retirement Income Plan of North Carolina (the “NC 401(k) Plan”) and the North Carolina Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan (the “NC 457 Plan” and with the NC 401(k) Plan, the “Plans”). The responsibilities of the Board and the Department include prudent oversight of the Plans’ assets for the sole benefit of the Plans’ participants and their beneficiaries, and this Policy describes the Board’s approach and process for voting proxies associated with the Plans’ assets.

II. Scope and Application

This policy applies to the proxies associated with the publicly-traded equity securities held by the Plans, whether directly in a separate account or indirectly through units of a collective trust fund (“CTF”); however, this policy does not apply to a CTF that does not permit its investors to vote proxies.

III. Statement of Policy

The Department will vote the Plans’ proxies according to the Proxy Voting Policy adopted by the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina for the North Carolina Retirement Systems (the “NCRS Policy”), a copy of which is attached to this policy.

As required by the NCRS Policy, the Treasurer will review the NCRS Policy annually or as otherwise deemed prudent. Updates to the NCRS Policy will be incorporated into this policy without further action by the Board; however, the Department will notify the Board of material changes to the NCRS Policy at the Board meeting immediately following the Treasurer’s adoption of such changes.

The Department will provide the Board with an annual report on the Plans’ proxy votes and will provide additional reporting as requested by the Board.

The Board may amend this policy at any time.

IV. Revision History and Effective Dates

Version	Effective Date	Description of Changes
1.0	December 14, 2017	Original version. Adopted the Treasurer’s Proxy Voting Policy for NCRS, which utilized voting administration and standard guidelines from Glass Lewis.
2.0	August 21, 2025	Reaffirmed the adoption of the Treasurer’s Proxy Voting Policy for NCRS, which was significantly revised for the first time since 2017. The revised policy includes the following: (1) the legal considerations and investment principles that inform the policy are updated; (2) certain proposals are designated as Material Proposals; (3) Material Proposals will be voted by Glass Lewis using its standard guidelines; and (4) the Treasurer will abstain from voting on non-Material Proposals.

Legal Considerations

The Treasurer is the investment fiduciary for the North Carolina Retirement Systems (“NCRS”). The discharge of the Treasurer’s and their authorized delegees’ fiduciary duties is governed by N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6, which requires, in part, in subsection (a) that the Treasurer manage NCRS’s investments:

1. Solely in the interests of, and for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to, NCRS’s participants and beneficiaries;
2. With the care, skill, and caution of a prudent investor; and
3. Incurring costs only to the extent they are appropriate and reasonable.

As investment fiduciary, the Treasurer invests in the shares of publicly-traded companies in the United States and other countries, as authorized by N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-69.2(b)(8), and is responsible for the voting decisions for the proxies associated with these shares. Proxy voting decisions include whether to vote on a particular proposal and, if so, whether to support or oppose such proposal. In making proxy voting decisions, N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5) requires the Treasurer to “consider only pecuniary factors,” which are defined as factors that have “a material effect on the financial risk or financial return of an investment.”

In addition, the Treasurer often refers to ERISA’s standards as a potential source of best practices, and ERISA’s proxy voting regulation in 29 C.F.R. § 2550.404a–1(d) utilizes a similar fiduciary framework as N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5). For example, ERISA requires the plan fiduciary to make decisions (a) in the “best interests of participants and beneficiaries;” (b) for the “exclusive purpose of providing benefits to participants and beneficiaries;” and (c) “[c]onsider[ing] any costs involved.” However, the regulation expands on N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5) in two important ways. First, it explicitly applies the fiduciary standard to the separate decisions of whether to vote on a proposal and, if so, whether to support or oppose such proposal. Second, a plan fiduciary must “[e]xercise prudence and diligence in the selection and monitoring of [a Proxy Vendor].”

Investment Principles

The following principles have a substantial influence on whether and how the Treasurer should vote on proposals.

DST POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

1. NCRS would incur substantial costs if the Treasurer developed and maintained custom proxy voting guidelines and then evaluated and voted every proposal received by the Treasurer.
2. The Treasurer's vote is unlikely to have a material influence on the outcome of a vote unless the Treasurer holds a significant percentage of a company's outstanding voting shares.
3. The outcome of a proxy vote is unlikely to have a material effect on the performance of NCRS's investments unless the Treasurer holdings of the company constitute a significant percentage of NCRS's total assets.
4. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain types of proposals ("Core Governance Issues") are essential to corporate governance and, therefore, more likely to have a "material effect on the financial risk or financial return" of the Treasurer's investment in the company, as required by N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5).
5. There are firms ("Proxy Vendors") that develop and maintain proxy voting guidelines, apply the guidelines to specific proposals, and cast votes on such proposals on behalf of their clients. Proxy Vendors are able to spread much of the cost of proxy voting over numerous clients.

Policy

Based on the foregoing legal considerations and investment principles, the Treasurer adopts the following policy for whether and how to vote the proxies associated with the Treasurer's investments in publicly-traded companies.

The Treasurer will vote on Core Governance Proposals and other proposals that meet the materiality standard of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5) ("Other Material Proposals" and with Core Governance Proposals, "Material Proposals"). The Treasurer will abstain from voting on other proposals.

Core Governance Proposals are binding proposals in one of the following categories:

1. Audit and financials
2. Board-related (e.g., elections; declassification)
3. Capital management (e.g., share buyback programs)
4. Changes to the company's statutes and bylaws
5. Compensation
6. Mergers and acquisitions
7. Meeting administration
8. Other governance matters

Other Material Proposals are proposals for which one of following criteria is met, provided that for Nos. 1 and 2, such proposals are binding:

1. The Treasurer holds at least 1% of NCRS's total assets in the company;
2. The Treasurer owns at least 2% of the company's outstanding voting shares; or
3. The Treasurer otherwise determines that voting on the proposal meets the standards of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 147-70.6(b)(5).

The Treasurer will utilize a Policy Vendor to develop and maintain proxy voting guidelines and evaluate and vote the Treasurer's proxies for Material Proposals. The Treasurer will review the proxy voting guidelines on an annual basis for consistency with the Treasurer's fiduciary duties.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Treasurer may authorize an investment manager to vote the proxies associated with the shares managed by the investment manager, provided that such voting is a material part of the manager's investment approach, is subject to materially the same fiduciary standards as apply to the Treasurer, and is documented in the Treasurer's investment management agreement with the manager.

The Treasurer will review this policy annually or as otherwise deemed prudent.
